KABO LAWYERS

Kabo Lawyers is the smart choice for smart clients

like you

We speak your language. Literally.

Buying and selling property can feel daunting - and language barriers can make it even more overwhelming.

So why complicate your experience more than necessary?

At Kabo Lawyers, our team comes from a broad range of Asian backgrounds. China, Malaysia, Korea, Thailand, Vietnam, Japan, Indonesia, India. Just to name a few. We speak all major Asian languages fluently. And we're well placed to facilitate communications between you and your Australian partners.

We bridge the cultural gap

Effective cross-cultural communication is not just about spoken languages. It's also about a mutual respect for each party's cultural heritage.

Sadly, many international transactions are compromised by misunderstood or insensitive cross-cultural interactions.

As your local legal representation, Kabo Lawyers understands the nuances of your culture. We'll ensure your business dealings are culturally sensitive for all parties.

Broad practical experience

At Kabo Lawyers, we provide an 'end to end' service for your property transaction. From residential properties to complex developments and leasing transactions, we do it all.

We work with all parties involved - both locally and overseas. And we service a diverse range of people and businesses, including large developers and construction companies.

Competitive, fixed fee arrangements

With many undefined costs involved in a property transaction, we believe your legal fees should not be one of them.

Unlike conventional law firms, we charge fixed prices for our core property services. That means greater financial security for you.

For custom non-core services, we charge a competitive hourly rate.

An integrated legal solution

We understand that purchasing an overseas property often goes hand-in-hand with other legal challenges. Most commonly, migration.

As your legal representative, Kabo Lawyers can prepare, lodge and finalise your visa application. And as with your property transaction, we'll keep you fully abreast of progress at all times.

Our culturally diverse team also specialises in family law, commercial law, litigation and more.
