

Our Firm

A firm that stands the test of time

At Lowe Lippmann, we believe that if our clients and community succeed, so do we. By instilling this philosophy in all we do, we've been able to evolve with every decade, overcome every challenge – and deepen our loyal, trusted relationships with each passing year.

An enduring legacy

Robert Lowe and Kurt Lippmann opened our firm in 1948 – and we've flourished every day since.

Over our 70+ years, we've developed a reputation for excellence due to the consistent quality of our service and solutions. We've also forged strong relationships with clients and staff across generations.

With a wide breadth of expertise and a depth of commitment that's second to none, we're able to support professionals and businesses of all kinds.

Just the right size

Lowe Lippmann is larger than a boutique suburban firm, but smaller than a large city enterprise. That's how we like it.

It means we're big enough to provide first-rate solutions across a range of specialist areas – without the inflated price tags.

It also means we're able to deliver a more personal, attentive service where our Partners and Directors remain hands on. All our leaders are only ever a phone call away.

A human-centred culture

Like all leading firms, we use the latest systems and software to make us more efficient and available to clients. But at Lowe Lippmann, technology is never the be-all and end-all.

Instead, people remain the heart of our firm.

We have a diverse culture driven by a professional chemistry that's rare to find. It's in this authentic and supportive environment that our team and clients truly thrive.

Driven by our community spirit

At Lowe Lippmann, supporting our community isn't a 'maybe'. It's a must.

Our strong giving spirit manifests in a number of ways, such as through pro bono work, sponsorships and donations.

As a result, we often find ourselves supporting many different charities – all aligned with the passions of our people.
