Get your vintage pride and joy in top notch condition

For the DIY home-mechanic, there are few things more satisfying than restoring a vintage car. But don't pump the brakes on your project if you run into trouble. Get the expert help you need – without leaving your garage.

Classic cars: nice to look at, but even better to drive

Restoring vintage cars is a specialist service that not all mechanics are up for.

But with my long history and expertise in brakes – especially when it comes to older cars – I can help you get your old classic back in working order. My vintage car brake repair and restoration services include:

- Fabricating new steel, copper or stainless-steel brake lines
- Reconditioning hydraulic systems (including the master cylinder, wheel cylinders and calipers)
- Remote brake boosters
- Disc and drum machining (completed onsite with a brake lathe)
- Suspension and steering repairs or modifications

You won't even need to leave your garage

If you're restoring a car that's not driveable but needs a brake mechanic, don't let immobility get in the way. I travel across Melbourne's South East suburbs and the Mornington Peninsula to my clients' homes.

Need new parts? Not an issue. My mobile van is fully equipped with tools and parts to get your vintage pride and joy in top-notch condition.

Diagnosed the problem promptly and fixed it without a fuss

'I engaged Stopfast for a problem with the Brembo system on my 2015 XR8 after a failed diagnosis by my Ford dealer.

Tim diagnosed the problem promptly and fixed it without fuss. It's fair to say the service I received was excellent.'
